Presidents Report - February 2017

Hello and Happy New Year to you all.

I hope you all have had a good Christmas and relaxing holiday break with your families. It's only 11 months until Christmas ....

Those that didn't get what they wanted from Santa "will be counting".

Our first club night for the year should be a good evening with guest speaker Mark Law from Frontier Helicopters. Please come along and show your support by filling the Hall (with people).

The membership has increased to the highest it has ever been at 438 which includes all categories of membership. It's great to see the club in a strong position both financially and with high membership numbers.

The Range Administration building is progressing with the site preparation completed and the plans submitted to council to commence the consent process. Hopefully this won't take too long and the real work can commence.

We have had new signage printed for the club board at the front of the property as the original sign is looking a bit tired and needs replacing. We will get this finished over the next few weeks.

The committee has agreed to improve the look of our Club property by improving the landscaping. Doug Williams has offered to draw up a plan so if anyone has any bright ideas get in touch with Doug or the committee.

The next club hunt is the Kaweka fly in 17th to 20th Feb. Contact Chris Munro That's about all for now and by the time you read this the Tapu family weekend should be in full swing.

HUNTS Course 2016

It was quite a surprise to find myself sitting in a room full of hunters at the Deerstalkers Association headquarters!! Never in my wildest dreams did I think I would ever be a hunter, armed and dangerous (to deer), planning to stalk around in the bush like a commando.... But that's what being a father brings, a life full of surprises!!

How did I come to be sitting in that room? Well, that started when we moved into a lifestyle block and the kids took to making their own bows and arrows. Despite a great deal of effort and enthusiasm, no living thing was ever in danger. This soon progressed to purchased bows and arrows, and membership at the O'Hara archery Centre outside Paengaroa. Again excitement and great endeavor didn't put anything on the table so we busted out my 30-year-old slug gun and tried really hard to put a dent in the local rabbit population. This soon progressed to a modern .22 slug gun and then a .22 rim fire rifle. By this time, I had my gun license and deer hunting was on the agenda. My son and I did a "test run" with a guide down in Whanganui and came home with a (small) freezer full of fallow meat. At this point there was no turning back and I figured it I'm jumping into this hunting thing, then I might as well be "all-in" so I registered for the HUNTS course.

Firstly, a word about the people who ran the course, Keith, Bob, Anja, Doug, Jamie, Les, Graham, Lester, Brent, John and others. This bunch of "good blokes" have many lifetimes of experience and stories between them. I doubt there is much they have not seen over the years and we're lucky that they are so willing to give up their time to share everything they know.

The course content was as varied as it was interesting. From river crossing to first aid, and photography to marksmanship the course was well thought out and contained everything a would-be hunter needs to know to get started. There was big focus on safety and after completing the course I felt confident enough to head into the bush knowing I had the right gear, and even better, I now know how to use my map and compass!

Now for some anecdotes:

I learnt that there actually is no right way to hunt..... When it came to stalking deer in the bush we were told that you had to be deadly quiet and at all costs be aware of the wind. I imagined commando crawling through the bush covered in face paint not breaking a single twig. We were also told that you might as well just walk normally and if there was one deer it would run away before you got anywhere near it, but if there were three or more they'd think you were one of them and be sitting ducks! Conflicting.... Confusing!

I learnt that Swandri's are a non-negotiable part of a hunter's wardrobe. The gear list for the weekend at Ngamuwahine was well thought out and contained everything you'd expect to see. Thermals, jersey, jacket, raincoat, hat sleeping bag and the like. It also, very specifically included a "Swandri". I couldn't figure out why you needed a Swandri when I already had a raincoat and a fleece? It's because real hunters have Swandri's of course!!

I learnt, finally, why hunters wear all that cammo gear. I asked this question multiple ways on the course. Why bother with all that camouflage gear when you're going to stick a whole bunch of blaze on top of it? I was worried that I needed to spend a ton of money on new cammo gear and wanted to make sure I really needed it. Finally, I just asked straight out, "would you come hunting with me if I wore this bright blue rain coat?" The crew looked a bit perplexed, but after some thought said "yes of course, although it might make a bit of noise". So why wear cammo gear then? Because that's what hunters do!

And finally, I learnt that if you see a deer, then shoot it. On the Waikarimoana hunt, one of the would-be hunters spotted a deer and as he frantically tried to get the attention of the instructor it ran away. When asked what he should do next time, the instructor said "shoot the bloody thing"!!

Seriously though, if you are a newbie, or experienced hunter then attending the HUNTS course is absolutely a worthwhile investment in both time and money. There isn't any other way to learn such a huge amount of valuable information in such a short time. The instructors are highly experienced and more than happy to share whatever information they have. It's also a great way to meet other like-minded people. Thanks for making this such a fantastic course.

Christmas Shopping

A couple were in a busy shopping centre just before christmas. The wife suddenly noticed that her husband was missing and as they had a lot to do, she called him on the mobile.

The wife said “where are you, you know we have lots to do”

He said “you remember the jewelers we went into about 10 years ago and you fell in love with that diamond necklace? I couldn’t afford it at the time and I said that one day I would get it for you?”

Little tears started to flow down her cheeks and she got all choked up.

“Yes I do remember that shop” she replied

“Well, I am in the gun shop next door to that.” !!!

Bricks

In the 1950's a friend of Catherine's moved with her young family into a house next door to a vacant lot. One day some builders arrived to put up a house on the lot. Catherine's friend had a three-year old daughter who naturally took an interest in all the activity going on next door. She hung around on the margins and eventually the builders adopted her as a kind of mascot. They chatted to her and gave her little jobs to do and at the end of the week presented her with a little pay packet containing a shiny new half crown.

She took this home to her mother who made all the appropriate cooings of admiration and suggested that they take it to the bank the next morning to deposit it in her account. When they went to the bank, the cashier was equally impressed and asked the little girl how she had come by her own pay packet.

I've been building a house this week she replied proudly.

Goodness said the cashier and will you be building a house next week too?

I will if we ever get the f***ing bricks answered the little girl!

“Congratulations on surviving another hunting season.”

I think women are foolish to pretend they are equal to men. They are far superior and always have been. Whatever you give a woman, she will make greater. If you give her sperm, she will give you a baby. If you give her a house, she will give you a home. If you give her groceries, she will give you a meal. If you give her a smile, she will give you her heart. She multiplies and enlarges what is given to her. So, if you give her any crap, be ready to receive a ton of shit!

CODE OF ETHICS

A peculiar virtue in wildlife ethics is that the hunter ordinarily has no gallery to applaud or disapprove of his conduct. Whatever his act they are dictated by his own conscience, rather than by a mob of onlookers. It is difficult to exaggerate the importance of this fact.

Aldo Leopold, The Sand County Almanac.

A member of the New Zealand Deerstalkers' Association Incorporated will be expected to;

1. Approach recreational hunting from the highest possible level of ethics, having due regard to the welfare of the animals hunted, and prevention of cruelty to the same
2. Not hunt or carry a firearm on property without the proper approval of the owner, occupier of controlling authority and shall strictly observe any conditions imposed upon him
3. Be a responsible firearms owner and abide by current Firearms Laws
4. Avoid unnecessary or deliberate damage to the environment, respect property, and other users of the outdoors
5. Advocate sensible conservation practices at all times and promote New Zealand's biodiversity 'in situ'
6. Practice the Field Guidelines when out hunting
7. Be exemplary members of NZDA by promoting and abiding by its Rules, Field Guidelines and this Code of Ethics.
